Dear Sandra and the Tarleton Mere Brow Church of England Primary School community,

I am writing to express our heartfelt appreciation and pride following the recent Ofsted inspection. The outcome of "Good" is a testament to the exceptional hard work, dedication, and resilience demonstrated by the entire school community.

This report affirms that Tarleton Mere Brow is well-led and that the staff have worked tirelessly to maintain high standards of education and care for your children. The inspectors' findings highlight numerous strengths that we should all be immensely proud of:

1. The school's motto, "Let Your Light Shine," is evidently brought to life daily, reflecting our strong Christian ethos and distinctiveness.
2. Pupils are happy at this small and nurturing school, feeling valued and accepted.
3. The school maintains high expectations for all pupils, including those with SEND, resulting in good achievement and preparation for secondary education.
4. Pupils' excellent behavior and understanding of school rules contribute to a safe and nurturing environment.
5. The range of experiences offered beyond the academic curriculum, including the "80 opportunities" initiative, provides a rich and diverse educational experience.
6. The school's consideration for staff wellbeing while implementing improvements is particularly noteworthy.

As we approach the summer break, I want to express how incredibly proud we are of each and every one of you - staff, pupils, parents, and governors.

We hope you can take time this summer to reflect on your achievements and the positive impact you have on our students every day. Your commitment to nurturing both the academic and personal growth of your pupils is truly commendable.

We look forward to seeing you building on this success in the coming year, continuing to let your light shine brightly. Have a wonderful and well-deserved summer break.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Iain Parks
Director of Education
